

We would like to introduce ourselves, as “Charlies Helping Hands.”, a non-profit 501-(c)3 foundation (EIN # 87-1056721).

Charlie was a long-time engineer for the Boeing company, based out of Seattle. He retired in 2008 and spent his time between his home in Green Valley, AZ. and his summer place, a cabin on the Lake near Seeley Lake, MT.

He tragically died in an airplane crash in the fall of 2020.

Charlie was always interested and devoted in helping kids, both monetarily or by just giving his time to assist them, no matter what endeavor they wanted to pursue; whether it be golf, flying, fishing or just trying to get by, Charlie would offer a “Helping Hand”.

We started this foundation to honor Charlie, a friend to everyone he ever met. Charlie was a “once in a lifetime” special individual who never let an opportunity go by to introduce himself and quickly become an individual that you would always remember. Whether his zest for life, his laughter, sense of humor, his empathetic nature, or just enjoy the candy he would enthusiastically pass out to all golf course employees, just to let them know he appreciated their efforts to maintain the course in good shape.

The purpose of the foundation “Charlies Helping Hands” is to honor Charlie’s memory, his unwavering goal of making the world a better place, starting with the youth of Seeley Lake, MT., and surrounding areas. Our hope is that we can learn from Charlie’s example and help provide a resource to aid in the personal, scholastic, and/or athletic growth of the young individuals who will become the community of the future.

The foundation is asking for your help in making these dreams come true. Every donation will be tax deductible through the foundation will help in keeping the outgoing, positive attitude and generous nature of Charlie alive and give the kids a Helping Hand to a better future. We are currently holding a golf tournament on Aug. 18, 2022, to continue our fundraising efforts.

Any contribution to this effort would be greatly appreciated, whether monetarily, donations of goods and services, your time, or even just your well wishes to help us succeed in our endeavors of making “Charlies Helping Hands” a significant tool in helping and guiding the youth of today and into the future.

Respectfully from the Board of Charlies Helping Hands,

Mark Wilson    Founder
